

PMUAC at A Glance

Preah Vihear Mean Chey Union of Agricultural Cooperative (PMUAC) was the first union established in the Kingdom of Cambodia and officially recognized by the General Directorate of Agriculture (GDA)/MAFF under the Registration Certificate No. 001 GDA/UAC/P on July 19, 2016. The Union was formed under the initiative of eight founding Agricultural Cooperative (AC) members in Preah Vihear province. As of 2025, PMUAC has a total of 25 AC members with 6,325 household farmers located in all seven districts of Preah Vihear province.

PMUAC plays a vital role in supporting its AC members to promote safe and certified agricultural products—both in terms of quantity and quality—to compete in the market, protect the interests of farmers and the farming community fairly and equitably, and oversee the internal control system and certification process.

VISION

Farmers in Preah Vihear province have improved living conditions, and are living with prosperity and dignity.

MISSION

The mission of PMUAC is to mobilize Agricultural Cooperatives to work together, provide market access facilitation, strengthen product quality, and enhance capacity of ACs/farmers as members to become a strong joint effort in order to sustainably increase their incomes.

CORE VALUES

- ◆ Solidarity for the common interests.
- ◆ Quality and safety products.
- ◆ Working together in an honest manner.
